Danna's Monthly Tip

Night creams are beneficial to your skin because skin naturally repairs itself while you sleep. Studies have shown that the golden hours for our skin are between the hours of 10 p.m. and midnight. That's when the metabolic activity of the skin cells are at their peak. Hello new skin cells! Because night creams are thicker they are able to penetrate the skin slowly during those hours making them more effective. Using a night cream that targets your individual skincare needs will enhance your skin's natural process. Now you know why they call it beauty rest!
